Below are the all-conference teams and specialty award winners for Central Washington Athletic Conference boys' wrestling for the Winter 2021-22 season. First-team honorees are the top-seeded individuals in each weight class for the district championship tournament, which was held Saturday (Feb. 5) at Grandview High School. Second-team honorees were seeded second in their respective weight classes, while honorable mention selections were seeded third in their weight class for the district tournament.

Specialty awards, voted on by conference coaches, were awarded to senior Rey Huizar of Prosser High School in the lighter weight classes and to senior Alonzo Garza of Selah High School in the heavier weight classes. Selah head coach Ken Mozingo, now in his 22nd year with the Vikings and whose 2021-22 Viking squad had nine top seeds for the district tournament, was selected as CWAC Coach of the Year.
